Bob,

Here is a new sketch of Western Oz, with changes based upon our conversation on the phone the yesterday. You'll see that I've:

- 1) added the bodies of water on either side of the map
- 2) extended fingers of the canyon cliff walls on the eastern side to create the pinch area you talked about
- 3) made the lake over there crowd into the gap
- 4) put rivers into the map, winding from the waterfalls at the top and then combining to flow out of the map through the narrow canyon to the south
- 5) moved the fringes out to take up more the eastern side of the map
- 6) added more details all over the place

I'll keep forging ahead. Let me know what you think.
